WHAT IS PARASPORT?

Parasports are sports that are designed for persons living with a disability. Parasports can be played both competitively all the way up to the Paralympic level, but also recreationally for fun in your own community!

Parasports can be offered in many different forms. Some are offered as a stand-alone program (all players have similar disabilities) such as Goalball, and some are integrated programs (a mix of players living with a disability and abled-bodied players) such as Athletics and Swimming. Many sports use a classification system that puts athletes with similar mobility on an even playing field with each other.

While designed for persons living with a disability, many Parasports can be played by people of any age or ability, living with or without a disability. They create a level playing field where athletes of all abilities can play together.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE IN PARASPORT?

Parasports are sports tailored for persons living with a disability, and are intended to ensure sport opportunities are available to everyone.

There are Parasports that are suitable for anyone, regardless of their physical ability. Whether that is Boccia, Wheelchair Basketball, or Goalball, there are sports available for those with physical or visual disabilities of any level.

Some disabilities that are frequently seen in Parasports are [1];

- Amputees and Limb Length Differences
- Spinal Cord Injuries
- Cerebral Palsy
- Muscular Dystrophy
- Traumatic Brain Injuries
- Visual Impairments
- And Many Others!

The biggest takeaway is that regardless of an individual's disability, there is a Parasport that they can participate in and experience all of the positive benefits of sport.

Even if you do not live with a disability, some team Parasports such as Wheelchair Basketball and Para (Sledge) Hockey can be played by able-bodied players, and participants of all abilities are encouraged to play!

WHY PARTICIPATE IN PARASPORT?

Everyone has the right to have the opportunity to participate in sport. Sport and physical activity helps maintain the mental and physical health of Nova Scotians, strengthens our communities, and positively contributes to our overall quality of life. We want to encourage all Nova Scotians to become more involved in sport, regardless of their ability.

Participants in sport experience a number of benefits including:

AUTONOMY

having the ability to make choices

BELONGINGNESS

being part of a group

CHALLENGE

being challenged

ENGAGEMENT

feeling involved

MASTERY

experiencing success

MEANING

evoking personal relevance

Parasport programs ensure that the benefits of sport are accessible to those of all abilities. No matter someone's physical ability, there are sports available for them that are safe, fun, and fulfilling that will allow participants to experience the positive benefits of sport.

WHY PARTICIPATE IN PARASPORT?

Children with disabilities often do not get enough exercise to maintain a healthy lifestyle. In fact, 38% of Canadian children with a disability never get exercise after school, compared to only 10% of able-bodied children who never get after-school exercise [2]. The benefits of physical activity are often MORE important to individuals with a disability.

What can YOU do as a parent, teacher or healthcare professional working with children living with a disability? Family members, teachers and healthcare professionals typically have the biggest impact on whether a child with a disability participates in sport.

You can support participation by persons living with a disability by:

HOW TO GET STARTED IN PARASPORT?

In Nova Scotia, Parasports are governed by the Provincial Sport Organization (PSO) for each individual sport in the Province. Individual programs are then run by a variety of community organizations across the Province. There are sport and recreation programs for persons of all abilities across Nova Scotia from the Grassroots to the Paralympic level.

To get involved in a Parasport for the first time in Nova Scotia there are 2 main options;

1) ATTEND A TRY-IT SESSION

Municipalities, Provincial Sport Organizations (PSO's) and Community Organizations hold Try-It sessions in various communities across Nova Scotia on a regular basis. Try-It sessions can sometimes be for a single Parasport, or include multiple Parasports together for participants to try!

To find information on upcoming Try-It sessions, it is best to visit the "Nova Scotia Parasport News" Facebook page which shares information from community groups as they are posted.

2) ATTEND A PROGRAM IN YOUR COMMUNITY

The easiest way to try a Parasport for the 1st time in Nova Scotia is to reach out to a local community program in your area to attend one of their sessions to try it out!

Programs are always looking for new athletes, and practically all the Parasport programs in Nova Scotia allow new prospective players to attend sessions, no commitment required, to see if they like the sport!

A list of the programs and contacts in each community can be found on pages 19 to 27.

PARASPORT COMPETITIVE PATHWAYS

For athletes striving to compete at the highest level, international competition for sports can be roughly grouped into 4 categories.

OLYMPICS

Able-Bodied Athletes

PARALYMPICS

Athletes With Physical & Visual Disabilities
(Also Limited Intellectual Disabilities)

ADAPTIVE SPORTS

Sports for Athletes
of All Abilities

SPECIAL OLYMPICS

Athletes With Intellectual Disabilities

When referring to Parasport in Nova Scotia, this includes the Paralympic and Adaptive Sports streams. These fall under the programs outlined in this guide. Special Olympics programs for athletes with Intellectual Disabilities are run by Special Olympics Nova Scotia.

For Para athletes who are participating in a Paralympic sport with their local community program, and who are interested in competing at a higher level - the 1st step would be to reach out to the Provincial Sport Organization (PSO) for your sport about Provincial Team Programs. Contacts for each PSO can be found at www.parasportns.com or at the QR code to the right.

PARASPORT CLASSIFICATION

Classification is the system in Parasports that determines which athletes are eligible to compete in a sport and how athletes are grouped together for competition. This, to a certain extent, is similar to grouping athletes by age, gender or weight.

In order to compete at a National level or above, Para athletes go through a classification evaluation that groups them into their “sport class,” according to their physical, intellectual, or sensorial function in a sport. These include standardized tests performed by the athlete and assessed by a classification panel.

It is important to remember that recreational athletes and those participating at the community level in any Parasport DO NOT HAVE TO complete or worry about classification! It is solely a way to group athletes of similar abilities at the competitive level.

For more information on sport specific classification, you can visit www.paralympic.ca/sports/classification/

PARASPORT CLASSIFICATION

Each Parasport has its own classification system depending on sport specific needs. See the following 2 pages for examples from a team sport and an individual sport.

Wheelchair Basketball

Players in Wheelchair Basketball are given a Sport Class which ranges from 1.0 to 4.5. Lower class athletes are more limited in their functional skills. Athletes assigned to higher classes have few if any limitations. The total number of points allowed on court at any time is 14.0.

PARASPORT CLASSIFICATION

Para Athletics

In Athletics the sport class consists of a prefix “T” or “F” and a number. The prefix T stands for “Track”, and F stands for “Field”. Classes are divided in terms of impairment type (indicated by the first digit) and description of impairment (indicated by the second digit).

First Letter Represents:

T/F TRACK OR FIELD

Typically T identifies a track event and F for a field event. There are certain exceptions (i.e. Long Jump is a T event)

First Number Represents:

1-7 IMPAIRMENT TYPE

- 1 = Visual Impairment
- 2 = Intellectual Impairment
- 3 = Co-ordination Impairment
- 4 = Upper Limb Deficiencies; Lower Limb Deficiencies
without the use of prosthetic; short stature
- 5 = Impaired muscle power or range of movement
- 6 = Limb deficiencies with the use of prosthetic
- 7 = Severe motor and coordination impairments

Second Number Represents:

1-8 DESCRIPTION OF IMPAIRMENT

The number 1 through 8 specifies the description of the impairment as per the classification rules
